

THE MISTLETOE BALL.

In Honor of the Queen and Her Maids.

The elegant ball room of the Mistletoe room was the scene of a brilliant gathering on Thursday, when about 150 guests assembled in response to very appropriate invitations sent out by the Club.

The decorations were of the Carnival colors and by the light of many incandescent lamps were most effective.

The excellent music furnished by the Louisiana Orchestra made dancing an especial delight.

The Club have used every means to make this ball given in honor of the Queen of the Flower show and her maids a success and their fondest expectations must have been realized.

Many out of town guests added interest to the entertainment and some beautiful costumes were worn by the ladies who all looked their best.

The Awards of Baby Premiums.

At eleven o'clock on Tuesday morning on stage 1, the premiums were given to the prettiest baby girl under one year and the handsomest boy under two years old.

The girls were exhibited and after some time, the judges decided that Mrs. J. L. Daniel's was the one to have the premium, which was one dozen cabinet photographs by Hatchings.

Mrs. Ethel Whitsett received the prize for the handsomest boy, a life size hand water color portrait by L. A. Hagan. Little Perry Jackson received the special premium given by Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Johnson, which was a silver cup.

Goes Sedalia One Better.

Marshall's big street fair, to continue during the week, opened Monday morning under most favorable auspices. The weather was all that could be desired, bright and cool. At 10 o'clock the Higginsville Military band, which recently delighted Sedalia, gave a drill, after which Mayor Miller made a brief address of welcome to the crowded streets and delivered the keys of the city to the president, W. A. Beatty, of the Street Fair association. The Marshall band followed by playing "A Hot Time in the Old Town." A chorus of fifty little girls under direction of Miss Cordell sang "Red, White and Blue" and "Dixie", after which the Higginsville band rendered "America," and the fair was formally opened. The program of all attractions is complete and the fair promises to be even better than Sedalia's, with all the good features and none of the objectionable ones.—Sedalia Capital.

Pyrotechnics.

We felt proud of our little city on Monday night. She looked up as never before and the immense crowds of people that thronged her streets were never before equaled; it is estimated that 2500 people enjoyed the fire works and other attractions, which were all good. And never did our people both old and young enter into the spirit of the times as upon this occasion.

The evening of innocent amusements passed without a thing to mar the pleasure of any one. And Marshall should be proud of the success of her Street Fair.

Four Attractive Windows.

As we take a peep in the many attractive windows around the square it is difficult to decide which is the most attractive, for they are all beautiful. Naylor's handsome parlor is furnished with much taste and looks most inviting while the Mitchell's have a handsome window decorated principally with elegant goods, that will compare very favorably with any city window. The New York Store, shows the work of an artist, and the elegant goods are so arranged that they appear to an advantage.

Wright's windows, that are always attractive, are certainly beautiful and are attracting large crowds.

Denny Loose.

Denny Loose, aged 10 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Loose, died at the home of his parents, 3 miles west of Marshall, on Wednesday morning, Sept. 27, 1899, after an illness of only six days with brain fever. Funeral at house. Burial at Blue Lick on Thursday 28th.

Gona, Mocha and Java.

Marshall & Koss have been serving hot coffee at their booth all this week. This coffee made from Gona, Mocha and Java, is simply delicious and only sells for the sum of 20 cents per lb. Let every body, who enjoys a good cup of coffee, try it.

Sydenstricker-Harvey.

Rev. Vernon Sydenstricker of Odessa and Miss Harvey of Nelson were quietly married on Wednesday at the home of the bride in Nelson, Rev. E. E. Morris of this city performing the ceremony.

The bride, a beautiful girl, was married in handsome light gray cloth tailor made gown, while the groom wore the conventional black. Only the relatives and most intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. The young couple left on the evening train for Odessa, which will be their home in the future. The REPUBLICAN extends congratulations.

Terrells.

Mr. I. S. Terrell of Edwardsville, Kansas and Miss Annie E. Irvin of this city, were quietly married at the home of the bride on North St. on Tuesday evening, Sept. 26th, 1899, Dr. L. P. Bowen performing the ceremony in the presence of the family and near relatives.

The bride, a handsome brunette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Charley Irvin. She is one of Marshall's fairest and most lovable young ladies, having grown from childhood to womanhood in Marshall, where she is universally popular. The groom is a son of Mr. I. L. Terrell of the county. He is a substantial young business man of fine principle, whose habits are excellent and whose friends are legion.

The wedding at this time was quite a surprise to the friends of the young couple, who did not look for it before Xmas. They will remain in Marshall until spring. The REPUBLICAN joins with the many friends in congratulations, that the future may ever prove as bright and happy as the present.

Mrs. M. A. Black and E. Eubank, of Slater, were guests Wednesday of R. B. Eubank and family on East Arrow St.

Miss Shackelford, of Glasgow, is the guest of Miss Frances Napton this week.

THE life of women overshadow their whole lives. Some women are constantly getting medical treatment and are never well. "A woman best understands women's ills," and the women who consult Mrs. Pinkham find in her counsel practical assistance. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Mary Goss, Corvallis, La. tells how Mrs. Pinkham saved her life. She says:

"I cannot thank you enough for what your medicine has done for me. I can recommend it as one of the best medicines on earth for all women's ills. I suffered for two years with female weakness and at last became bedfast. Three of our best doctors did me no good so I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking a few bottles of your medicine, I was able to do all my housework. I know that your medicine raised me from a bed of sickness and perhaps death, and am very thankful for what it has done for me. I hope that every suffering woman may be persuaded to try your medicine." Get Mrs. Pinkham's advice as soon as you begin to be puzzled. The sick headaches and dragging sensation come from a curable cause. Write for help as soon as they appear.

Mrs. DOLL STANLEY, Campbellburg, Ind., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I was troubled with sick headaches and was so weak and nervous, I could hardly go. A friend called upon me one evening and recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, saying that she knew that it would cure me. I then sent for your medicine and after taking five bottles of it, I was entirely cured. I cannot praise it enough."
